For any reason deemed sufficient by the Board of Directors, whether occasioned by absence or otherwise, the Board may delegate all or any of the powers and duties of any officer to any other officer or Director, but no officer shall execute, acknowledge or verify any instrument in more than two capacities.

SECTION 13: DUES, ANNUAL CHARGES, FEES AND ASSESSMENTS

To operate and maintain the Corporation, the Board of Directors shall recommend from time to time the sum or sums necessary and adequate for the expenses of the Corporation. The Corporation, through its general membership, shall have the power to assess its members for dues, annual charges, fees, and assessments. A member is not exempt from the obligation to pay the dues, annual charges, fees, and assessments by nonuse or waiver of the common facilities or by abandonment of his or her property.

Any of the stated charges are due and payable on the first day of January of each year, and become delinquent as of the first day of April of each year if the same remain unpaid. In the event a member does not pay the stated charges in full on or before the due date, he or she will not be a member in good standing, and there shall be levied a delinquency fee of 10% of the total amount of the stated charges for each year the total amount remains unpaid. The Board of Directors, at their discretion, shall have the power to place liens against the property or properties of any members' delinquent in payment. In addition, the member shall be responsible for the payment of any legal costs involved with collection of the dues, annual charges, fees, and assessments, including but not limited to the preparation of any lien and the costs for recording the lien.

The lien shall be in recordable form and contain the following information:

- (a) The legal description to which the lien attaches,
- (b) The name of the member of record,
- (c) The amount due at the date of notice, exclusive of costs, attorneys' fees, and future assessments.

The lien will have priority over any other lien against the member's lot or property, except state or federal taxing authority and sums unpaid on a first mortgage of record. The lien will have priority over a first mortgage of record if the mortgage is recorded after the lien. The lien may be foreclosed by an action or by advertisement by the Board of Directors. A foreclosure shall be in the same manner as a foreclosure under the laws relating to foreclosure of real estate mortgages by advertisement or judicial action, except to the extent these Bylaws provide, the Board is entitled to reasonable interest, expenses, costs, and attorney fees for foreclosure by advertisement or judicial action. The redemption period for a foreclosure is six (6) months from the date of the sale unless the property is abandoned, in which event the redemption period is one (1) month from the date of sale.

A foreclosure proceeding may not be commenced without recordation and service of the notice of lien. The lien must be recorded in the office of the register of deeds in the county in which the address is located and shall be served on the delinquent member at his or her last known address by first-class mail at least ten (10) days before the commencement of the foreclosure proceeding.

The Board of Directors, acting on behalf of all members, may bid at the foreclosure sale, and acquire, hold, lease, mortgage or convey the foreclosed unit following expiration of the member's redemption period. The member, and any purchaser, grantee, successor or assignee of the member's property, whose property is foreclosed under this section, remains liable for all sums due the Corporation, together with any advances made by the Corporation to protect its lien, before the expiration of the redemption period.

If a member maintains a first mortgage of record, the mortgagee of record shall be given notice of the foreclosure as required by state law. An action to recover money judgments for unpaid sums due the Corporation may be maintained without foreclosing or waiving the lien.

Any additional funding, revisions of amounts, or alterations of dues and/or delinquent dates must be approved by a vote of the majority of members eligible to vote and casting ballots under the provisions of Section 14 of Article 1 of these Bylaws. (Amended 2012)

State of Michigan DNR Campfire Safety

Always follow safe campfire practices to prevent them from starting a wildfire. Remember, you can be held responsible for the cost of putting the fire out if it escapes and for any property damage.

Preparing the Site

- Select a spot with easy access to water, and sheltered from prevailing winds. The fire should be built in a designated fire ring.
- Your fire should be at least 10 feet away from any logs, stumps trees or forest debris that might catch fire and 30 feet away from any structure.
- The space above the fire should be free from any overhanging branches.
- The fire ring should be placed on soil only -- remove all pine needles, dead grass, leaves, twigs and combustible material in a 10 feet circle.
- Have the right equipment handy to control the fire -- a water hose, pail of water and a shovel

How to Manage Your Fire

- A person who starts a fire outdoors must take all necessary steps to tend the fire, keep it under control, and extinguish the fire before leaving.
- Keep your fire small.
- Campfires should not exceed 3 feet in height and 3 feet in diameter.
- The forest is no place for a bonfire, and a small fire is easier to control and to put out.
- Don't start a fire outdoors unless conditions will allow the fire to burn safely from start to finish.
- Be aware if strong winds are blowing.
- Never leave your fire, and always leave an adult in charge.

How to Put Your Fire Out

- Begin by thoroughly drowning your fire with water as soon as possible after use.
- Stir the ashes to uncover warm spots. This will cool the fire faster and allow the water to soak in better. Drown it again!
- Make doubly sure the fire is dead out before you leave the site.
